Summer 2017

Sudip Bose '95, '99 MD

Sudip Bose is a practicing emergency medicine physician at the Medical Center Hospital in Odessa, Texas, where he is the city medical director. He is a clinical professor at Texas Tech University Health Sciences Center and an associate clinical professor at the University of Illinois at Chicago. He's also a mentor with the Alumni Physicians of Feinberg, where he shares personal stories, career guidance and professional perspective with rising medical students. Bose, a Bronze Star recipient and U.S. Army Iraq War veteran who treated Saddam Hussein after his capture, also advocates for veterans. (See "Saving Soldiers," winter 2005.)
